

Wilderness Babies by Julia Augusta Schwartz

Total running time: 02:43:44

This book tells the stories of some of the baby mammals of the wilderness, how they grow and learn day by day to take care of themselves. In hollow trees or down under water among the lily leaves, in cool seas or on rugged mountains, on grassy plains or among waving tree tops, in dark caves or in tangles underfoot, all the world is alive with young creatures.
